Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), as amended on December 1, 2006:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling of designated electronically stored information, books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to producing any or all of the designated materials or inspection of the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect, copy, test, or sample the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production, inspection, copying, testing, or sampling. Such an order to compel shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection, copying, testing, or sampling commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA.

(1) (A) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(B) If a subpoena does not specify the form or forms for producing electronically stored information, a person responding to a subpoena must produce the information in a form or forms in which the person ordinarily maintains it or in a form or forms that are reasonably usable.

(C) A person responding to a subpoena need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) A person responding to a subpoena need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or to quash, the person from whom discovery is sought must show that the information sought is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) (A) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(B) If information is produced in response to a subpoena that is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT. Failure of any person without adequate excuse to obey a subpoena served upon that person may be deemed a contempt of the court from which the subpoena issued. An adequate cause for failure to obey exists when a subpoena purports to require a nonparty to attend or produce at a place not within the limits provided by clause (ii) of subparagraph (c)(3)(A).

SCHEDULE A
DEFINITIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS

In responding to this subpoena, you shall produce all responsive documents that are in your possession, custody or control. A document shall be deemed to be within your control if you have the right to secure the document or a copy of the document from another person having possession or custody of the document.

1. In responding to this subpoena, you shall produce all responsive documents available at the time of production and you shall supplement your responses as required by the District Court of Delaware.
2. If any responsive document was, but is no longer, in your possession or subject to your control, state whether it is (a) missing or lost; (b) destroyed; (c) transferred voluntarily or involuntarily to others; or (d) otherwise disposed of; and in each instance, identify the name and address of its current or last known custodian, and the circumstances surrounding such disposition.
3. If any document responsive to these requests is withheld under a claim of privilege or upon any other ground, as to each such document, identify the privilege being asserted and provide the following information in sufficient detail to permit the court to rule on your claim;
 - (a) the date, author, primary addressee and secondary addressees or persons copied, including the relationship of those persons to the author of the document; a brief description sufficient to identify the type, subject matter, and purpose of the document;
 - (b) all person to whom its contents have been disclosed; and
 - (c) the party who is asserting the privilege.
4. If a portion of any document responsive to these request is withheld under claim of privilege pursuant to Instruction 3, any non-privileged portion of such document must be produced with the portion claimed to be privileged redacted.

5. You are to produce each document requested herein in its entirety, without deletion or excision (except as qualified by Instructions 3 and 4 above) regardless of whether you consider the entire document to be relevant or responsive to the requests.
6. "Any" shall mean "all" and vice versa, as necessary to bring within the scope of the Request all information that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.
7. The singular shall include the plural and vice versa, as necessary to bring within the scope of each Request all information that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.
8. The connectives "and" and "or" shall operate disjunctively or conjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of each Request all information that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.

DEFINITIONS

Unless otherwise stated, the terms set forth below are defined as follows:

9. The term "document(s)" as used herein is employed in the broadest possible sense to include any medium upon which information is recorded to preserved, by whoever generated or received, and means, without limitation:
 - (a) Written or printed material of any kind, including the originals and all non-identical copies or otherwise, and including all drafts, alterations, modifications, changes or amendments;
 - (b) All graphic or oral records or any kind (including without limitation, photographs, charts, graphs, microfiche, microfilm, videotapes, audio recordings and motion pictures); and
 - (c) All electronic or mechanical records of any kind (including, without limitation, e-mail, computer discs, or any other computer storage devices).
10. The terms "communication" or "communications" shall mean and refer to without limitation, any document statement, or expression which constitutes, embodies, evidences or relates to any transmission of a word, statement, fact, thing, idea, writing, instruction, demand or question, whether oral or written, including but not limited to, letters, telecopies, telexes, e-mails, voicemails, meetings, discussions, conversations, telephone calls, memoranda, conferences or seminars.

The term “written communication” includes, but is not limited to, letters, notes, e-mails, correspondence and memoranda.
